PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT SPECIFICATIONS 2024
NED UNIVERSITY OF ENGINEERING AND TECHNOLOGY

- Gained knowledge and completed courses in software specifications, Python language, and testing, which help understand the essential elements involved in the software development lifecycle (SDLC) and the management aspects of software projects and project management.
- The project involves coding using HTML and CSS for web development, along with an introduction to PHP through website creation.

E-COMMERCE PROJECT WORK – SOFTWARE DOCUMENT 2024
NED UNIVERSITY OF ENGINEERING AND TECHNOLOGY

- Completed a project related to an e-commerce website, creating a comprehensive document featuring data flow, use case diagrams, and activity diagrams. This documentation facilitates a thorough understanding of the website's functionality and specifications for users, ensuring optimal usability.

- Composed Business Requirements Document (BRD) and Software Requirements Specification (SRS) for an e-commerce project. The BRD outlined business goals, objectives, and stakeholder requirements. The SRS provided detailed technical specifications, user stories, and functional requirements for development. Both documents facilitated alignment between business needs and technical implementation, ensuring effective communication across project teams and stakeholders.
